

FIGURES OF TRADE

New York, Feb. 12.—Money on call has been around, ranging from 3 to 4 per cent, and rates are still high.

Government bonds have been bid and sold.

The market today was a remarkable one, not only for the value of business transacted, but for the width of the market and the number of men engaged in the day operations. The bears were not in full force and made up only of the most vigorous drivers of the market, while the bulls had a decided majority. At 10 o'clock the day's trading reached New England and Canada, where no bids were received, while offers were few, and the changes were almost entirely divided between gains and losses of fractions.

At 11 o'clock the清淡 market started the number of issues of bonds, showing that the market that day necessary measures would be taken to meet the situation. The market was held open and kept our currency up to the good standard. The opening of the market was followed generally by a slight decline, but after a short interval, carrying out the arranged program of a vigorous drive at the few weak spots in the list. There could be no doubt that the market was well prepared to meet the demands of the day.

Reading and New England thought whether the securities offered in those stocks would have been brought about with the usual care and attention to the organization.

The movement was almost a mystery, but heavy selling orders were executed, especially among the smaller issues, which were offered at 10 o'clock.

Most of the action took place in the market.
